CROSSFIELD WELCOMES NEW YEAR IN GALA, FESTIVE MANNER

CROSSFIELD.—Over three hundred people packed the Community hall in a dance which started at midnight to greet the New Year.

Frank Howard and his orchestra supplied good peppy music and everyone was in a happy holiday mood and were out to enjoy the dance. There were spot dances in which the lucky winners received huge boxes of candy. Tommy Arnott, Tommy Stamp and Walter Stewart comprised the committee which were responsible for the good time which lasted until 4 a.m.

Bert Lilley was minus a good brown hat bearing the initials B.L. and would be glad if it should be returned, if anyone finds himself with the wrong hat.

Our new druggist and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Mervin J. Baum, have taken up residence in the old P & H house and will be starting in business after the New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Becker and three children were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Becker for the Christmas holiday.

Mrs. Kenny Borbridge who has been at Vancouver, due to illness of her father, returned in time to share Christmas with her family.

The ice in the curling rink has been restored and good keen curling was enjoyed on Tuesday after Christmas.

Const. and Mrs. Mansell enjoyed a Christmas visit from the latter's sister and brother-in-law.

Dianne, small daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neil Laut has developed scarlet fever. There has been a lot of cases in the district.

Paul Kingshorn is to be taken to hospital for a check-up and is to be admitted on Jan. 2. We wish him the best of luck, as he has been ill for a long time.

Two chartered buses from Edmonton passed through Crossfield on Dec. 27 bearing he sign "Tuxis Parliament" and "CGIT Conference." Both sessions are to be held in Lethbridge. Charlie Rowat and Eugene Harder are delegates to Tuxis Parliament and will be supported by seven or eight more boys from town. Birgit Anderson and Joyce Kotow will represent the CGIT groups.

Mr. and Mrs. Abra of Calgary spent Christmas with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jim McCool and family.

The Stevens, Lilleys, Caseys and Sharps all took in the hockey games in the new arena in Calgary on Wednesday night. Donny and Jimmy Stevens helped High River wollop Strathmore to the tune of 14-3.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex Gordon enjoyed Christmas with their daughter Alma, her husband and family in Calgary.

Mrs. Garnet Onell was called to Vulcan owing to the sudden illness of her mother Mrs. A. Ferngren, who with her husband was spending the Christmas holidays with another daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Northcott of Vulcan. It was believed she suffered a severe heart attack and was placed in the Vulcan hospital. Garnet Onell left to spend New Year's with the Northcotts, hoping to find Mrs. Ferngren improving a little.

Mrs. Greta Hall has both her daughters home on a short visit—Cora, who is a nurse in the States and Alice who teaches in southern Alberta.

The small son of Mr. and Mrs. Doug Robinson who has polo is thought to be slightly improved.

Barbara Bills entertained over a dozen of her young friends at a waffle breakfast after the dance at New Year's, and the boys kept three waffle irons and three young misses busy with batter while they delighted their appetites.

Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Stevens entertained at a delightful 11 p.m. supper previous to the New Year's Ball. Seven couples sat down to a delicious supper after helping themselves from a table which boasted assorted salads, jellies, cold sliced turkey and ham, buns and all kinds of Christmas dainties, including home made chocolates. The table was attractive in Christmas motif and was pleasing to the eye. It was indeed a festive group that donned the novelty hats that emerged from the table favors, and who were through supper just in time to greet the New Year with a toast to the host and hostess, sing "Auld Lang Syne" and then scamper off to the dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Brock Campbell are rejoicing in the birth of another daughter, in the General Hospital on Dec. 28.

Miss Ruth McCool, who is nursing at Olds, spent New Year's with her parents, as she could not have time off at Christmas.

Bill Walker has had a lot of fixing to do on the telephones lately. Jerry Rance of the local bank, spent Christmas in Medicine Hat and the local Ladies' Bonspiel is set for 19 and 20 of January, so we would like to see our men curlers in aprons once again behind the lunch counter.

CGIT Presents National Christmas Vesper Service

CROSSFIELD.—On Dec. 17, the Senior and Junior C.G.I.T. conducted a candle lighting service at an evening worship in the United church. Frances Banta, president, was the leader throughout the entire service. Mrs. Wilda Charney, Senior Leader and organist, told the Christmas story. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with candles in the windows and five unlighted candles in the front which were lit by five other girls and from which all the other girls lit their tapers, symbolically perpetuating the light of Christianity as they marched down both aisles of the church. Each girl had a part in the very impressive service, which was beautifully done. The collection was sent to the Canadian Council of Churches, which in turn makes possible the work of the National Secretary.

Both Confident U.N. Can Prevent World War

Agreement between Prime Ministers Attlee and St. Laurent on the policy to be followed with the Chinese Communists was announced following their meeting in Ottawa. Both expressed confidence that through the agency of the United

CROSSFIELD IN TAIBLOID

A real old-time chinook played havoc with the curling ice last week, making a temporary halt to the square draws that were in effect. To beat everything, a filthy dust storm added to the ice men's misery, as well as to many local homes who thought their cleaning was done for Christmas. This storm was very bad a few miles N.E. of town.

Mr. and Mrs. Hilly Onell were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Onell and both families enjoyed Christmas with the Ruddy family.

Walter Landymore has not been feeling too well lately.

Mrs. Merle Myers is spending a two week's vacation in Golden.

Mrs. Walter Stewart was back for a check-up in Edmonton and is recovering very well from polio.

The local United church choir listened to a recording of their entire cantata, which was made on Saturday evening in the church, needless to say there were a great many remarks which wouldn't bear repeating. It was real fun to listen to one's own efforts however, and an experience to most of us to note with what speed and efficiency a recorder may be used.

Tan-y-Bryn school held its annual Christmas concert on Dec. 21 in the school. Walter Hurt and George Donald each won a blanket which had been raffled. A Christmas tree was decked for the children and everyone enjoyed treats which were passed around.

Mrs. Billy Bills entertained the members of the Young Married Ladies Sewing Club in her home. A delightful evening was spent and a nice lunch served by the hostess.

United Church Holds Annual Xmas Party

CROSSFIELD.—On Thursday, Dec. 21, the Sunday School of the United church held its annual concert at 8 p.m. in the church, which was more than filled to capacity, even the porch was crammed. Rev. Anderson acted as M.C. and opened with O. Canada, followed by two lovely old carols by the S. S. "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and "Silent Night". Lexy Charney and Joan Banta gave pleasing recitations and the Primary S. S. members sang "Away in a Manger". Thoroughly enjoyed was a duet by David Banta and Mark Stewart—"Rudolph the Red Nosed Reindeer". The Girl Explorers presented a little play which was followed by a duet by Russel Bills and Allen Kiernan entitled "Frosty, the Snowman". The Tuxis boys, under leadership of Mr. McDougall, presented a skit of their own originality in which Charlie Rowat, acting as teacher, had his pupils rehearse for Christmas, many of whom were dressed as girls. This was a scream. Birgit Anderson read "The Night Before Christmas". Mr. Mumby showed the picture "Grey Owl's Strange Guest", and a really wonderful magic act kept the children spell-bound until Santa attracted their attention.

Former Crossfield Resident Passes

He served with the R.C.A.F. for four years and was awarded the D.F.C. in 1948 he received his Bachelor of Commerce from the University of Alberta. Born in Vancouver, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Mair of 738 12th Ave. W.

Canadian Locks in the Locker

These shaved pates shown here belong to members of the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry who, on their trip to Korea, decided that hair, curly or straight, was just a nuisance to a fighting man. So off it came, and here we see the ceremony connected with the burial at sea of a few handfuls of Canadian-grown locks.

A Trial Will Tell

Opponents of the County system may not all be impelled by ulterior motives, as the minister has indicated in a recent broadcast. It is conceivable that, contrary to Mr. Gernhart's opinion, some of those criticizing the government for introduction of the County system of local government in Alberta do so with the best interests of the province and its people in mind.

We recall there always has been opposition to every new idea. Prophecies of the worst disasters befalling us have been made along with introduction of any new governmental reform. But in four short years we should know, by the experience of those areas giving the County system a trial, whether or not the system is sound or pregnant with error.

The measurement of success, by the way, will be assessed through the eyes of the ratepayer — common John who pays the taxes. Let us forget, he is the important factor whose interests must be identified by provincial minister, government, municipal council and school trustees.

Test-Tube Babies

Since doctors a few years ago thought of borrowing the artificial insemination idea from cattle breeders and trying it with human beings, the subject has been one of increasing popular interest. Exact statistics on how widespread the practice has become are impossible to obtain, because practically no lady who produces a test-tube baby rushes to tell the reporters about it.

But there seems to be no doubt that considerable human artificial insemination is going on; and there isn't any doubt whatever that under some circumstances it can raise many a fascinating legal problem.

For example: the man in the case as a general rule never sees the woman, and neither of them knows who the other is. All that is certain about them is that they are typical instances that he is not her husband.

Suppose, then some question arises concerning adultery. Somebody involved in the transaction might be technically guilty of that, assuming anyone wanted to bring the matter into court. But who would the guilty party be?

Certainly not the husband. How about the other man—the donor, as he is called—who never saw the woman or heard her name? It would seem a little unjust to call him an adulterer.

An argument on the subject came up the other day in the British House of Lords. Viscount Jowitt, Lord Chancellor and one of Britain's most respected legal authorities, arrived at the opinion that "to hold your breath, now—if anybody could be charged with adultery in a test-tube baby case it would be the doctor who performed the artificial insemination. The Chancellor added that he would welcome a court test.

You take from there. That's as far as we can follow this grimly ironic speculation for the moment.

Christian Love

Christian love is the only kind of love in which there is no rivalry, no jealousy among the lovers of art; there is jealousy among the lovers of song; there is jealousy among the lovers of beauty. The beauty of natural love is its monopoly, its power to say, "It is mine."

But the glory of Christian love is its refusal of monopoly.

The spiritual artist—the man who paints Christ in his soul—wants no solitary niche in the temple of fame. He would not like to hear any one say: "He is the first in his profession; there is not one who can hold the candle to him." He would be distinguished in his profession of Christ, marked out as a solitary figure. The gladdest moment to him will always be the moment when the cry is heard, "Thy brother is coming up the ladder also; thy brother will share the inheritance with thee."

Wanted: One New Calendar

By T. W. FUE

Each year about this time our offices are "loaded" with new calendars. They are all shapes and sizes, some with pretty pictures and some without. Some we can hang up in plain view and others we don't dare expose.

All calendars have this in common—it is absolutely necessary to have one around if you want to know on what day your birthday comes, or if Easter is observed in March or April, or to answer any one of scores of other baffling riddles for which the calendar is responsible.

WORLD CALENDAR

The last advocate to really accomplish anything in Calendar Reform was Pope Gregory XIII, who devised our present-day calendar in 1582. After considerable objection, particularly from Protestant England, it was adopted throughout the World.

The Pope's calendar was a big improvement over the previous one, but compared to the World Calendar suggested by Miss Betty Achella, and reproduced on this page, is a time wasting, ambiguous monstrosity that should without further delay be banished from our walls. In 1956 New Year's Day, according to the old as well as the new Calendar will fall on Monday. Thereafter, we can be certain that New Year's will fall on Monday of every year, if we adopt the new calendar.

T. W. Fue

U.N. APPROVES
A great majority of nations in the U.N. have already approved the new calendar, which eliminates any guess-work as to what day in the week a date falls on. If your birthday is, say, August 22nd, you'll know it will fall on Wednesday every year. There are 365 days in the ordinary year; 366 in Leap years. The World calendar makes exactly 52 weeks in a year, with one day extra out of 365 which has no place in any week and is just designated as a holiday.

Only a few minor religious groups, such as Seventh Day Adventists oppose the new calendar. As in the days of Pope Gregory XIII, though, I suppose most religious leaders will agree that it isn't the precise date on which a holiday falls, but the significance we attach to it that counts.

BOON TO BUSINESS

A standard calendar that would be the same, year after year, would be a boon to business. No more costly calculations of how many business days in a certain month or quarter to arrive at comparative financial statements. There would be an equal number of business days in each quarter, every year, and each three months' period would have exactly 91 days.

School authorities wouldn't be bothered by the bugaboos about when to start school terms due to holidays like Labor Day floating up and down in the week. Labor Day would be Monday, September 4th every year. Christmas and New Year's would also come on Monday of every year.

July 1st falls on Sunday in the new calendar, but would be observed Monday, which admittedly is the best day in the week for a public holiday, giving a long week-end to most people.

In 1956, if commonsense prevails in international affairs, it should be possible for the United Nations to adopt the new calendar on behalf of every nation of the world.

Let's hope so.

Publisher's Responsibility

(From Leduc Representative)

Every newspaper has a few "contributors" who submit personal or news items with the qualifying comment: "please do not change in any way." It is very difficult to explain to such people that what goes into the news columns of a paper is solely the responsibility of the editor. Even an advertiser who buys newspaper space, while given greater freedom to express his own views in his own way, is also subject to editorial limitations.

The simple fact is, of course, that an editor is personally and legally responsible for everything that appears in his paper and for ensuring that it appears in a way which will make it acceptable to his readership at large. To suggest that news shall be printed in this way or that is simply nobody's business except the editor's.

Printing was hailed as the invention to hand down wisdom to posterity; the only trouble is that posterity is too busy to read what was handed down.

Hollow Justice?

Dear Sir,—The recent sentencing of a 15-year-old boy to Fort Saskatchewan Jail was certainly hollow justice. He'll just be a worse criminal when he gets out. I know. I was there.

When the acting mayor, Mr. Hawrelak, asked the attorney-general to have him sent to some juvenile institute outside the province (as there is none here), one of the Edmonton dailies blasted him for "sentimentality."

I'm glad your paper has better sense. The sooner the people of Alberta realize that the government is the cause of this crime wave, through sending kids to jails where they turn into real criminals, the sooner the crime wave will end. And not until.

Dear Sir,—I guess I'm the dope who didn't know why he celebrated at Christmas. I read your explanation about what Christmas is all about, and still didn't know. So to celebrate I went out Christmas Eve and got stinking drunk.

Turn Off Babies?

Dear Sir,—That Goldfield Volcer has the right idea! Just stay single and live happily ever after. Isn't there some way to keep married couples from producing so many children? All they want is to have little images of themselves running around. What ego!

Dear Sir,—I hasten to send you herewith $2 money order representing my renewal for one year to that good paper you publish. I am sure it is overdue, and I don't want to take any chances. I don't want to miss a single issue of that good news you print.

County Act Would Correct Local Government Clashes

Schools, municipal affairs and hospitals would all be administered by one council and arrangements for financing them and serving their needs would be co-ordinated in an area that adopts the County Act, the Hon. C. E. Gerhart, minister of municipal affairs and provincial secretary, stressed in a recent broadcast.

Copies of the broadcast have been published and are being available to officials and organizations or any citizens interested in the county system of local self government.

The voluntary character of the act was stressed by the minister who pointed out that it must be requested before it could be given to an area that the ratepayers would have the right to vote for or against it after a trial period of four years.

The County Act would establish municipalities at a size that the government believes would be suitable and practical under modern and future conditions the minister stated. He pointed out that since local government started in Alberta the size of the local municipality had been changing steadily towards larger sized units. The new act would establish them permanently.

Adoption of the County Act in an area would remove the duplication of local self government by different bodies working independently of each other and often at cross purposes. Mr. Gerhart pointed out that at present the municipal council may carry through road construction without any knowledge of where the school board is planning new schools and school vans. Hospital boards also find that roads to hospital centres are not maintained.

In some places, said Mr. Gerhart, there has been so much difference of opinion between these different elected bodies that school boards have sued municipalities to get money they need for schools. Under the County Act responsibility for public works, schools and hospitals would be on one responsible local government. It would have at least three committees and no committee could dominate the council.

Under this plan, said Mr. Gerhart, the interests of the taxpayers as a whole would come ahead of the interests of any one particular branch of local government.

A school district at present may be short of money and forced to borrow while the municipality has an unspent surplus of reserves from tax sales, some of which represents school tax arrears. The County Act will place all money at the disposal of any need in the municipality. All parts of the school division will receive the same service because the school division area will coincide with the area of the municipality.

Outlining how the County Act would work Mr. Gerhart said that the boundary of the school division and municipality would be the same and the county would be about the size of the present school divisions. Both school board and present council would be dissolved and there would be a new election of a county council.

Innisfree Man Is University Student

UNIVERSITY STUDENTS RETURN TO STUDIES THIS WEEK

Students of the University of Alberta are returning this week to the provincial capital to resume studies in the 1950-51 term.

This week Spotlight on Alberta department turns the Spotlight on Alvin Myhre, youthful resident of the Innisfree district who is attending the university. Alvin is the 20-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Myhre of Innisfree and a graduate of Innisfree high school. He is taking his first year in the faculty of education at the university and plans to go into the teaching profession.

Besides his studies, Alvin is a member of the University Radio Society. In this society the students learn how to prepare radio broadcasts and methods of radio announcing. Every Thursday evening students of the university have a full evening's program over radio station CKUA, including student musicians, plays and commentaries.

In the sports line Alvin is keeping up his curling and this year he is throwing rocks for the University Curling Club.

Northern Birds in Great Migration

Annual migration of ducks and geese from Canada's northland is at its peak. Thousands of migratory birds alight daily at the Jack Miner bird sanctuary at Kingsville, Ont., are fed and take to the air for the long trip south. Here Manley Miner feeds a group of snow geese, mallards, white tumbler pigeons, with a few robins and sparrows pushing their way among the invited guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Schmalz visited at the home of the former's brother, Dr. Steve Schmalz and Mrs. Schmalz and family of Lethbridge, during Christmas week. They say that the Dr. and Mrs. Schmalz had just returned from New York, where he was taking a special two months' course in surgery with a class of thirty doctors from different countries of the world. On their return trip from Lethbridge, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Steve Nicholas of Coaldale. He was the Pool Agent at Beiseker prior to Mr. Charlie Weisgerber taking over in 1932. They wished to be remembered to all the old-timers of Beiseker. From there they motored on to Bow Island and visited Frank Lyczewski's parents, and came home by Medicine Hat and Gleichen and just missed the unfortunate accident of their nephew, Tony Schmalz of Beiseker, but arrived as the wreckage was being cleared.

Beiseker Man Escapes Injury In Accident

BEISEKER—His truck sliced in two, when struck by a CNR Calgary-bound train at Hubalt, about two miles east of Calgary, Tony Schmalz of Beiseker, was rushed to General Hospital early Friday evening suffering from possible fracture of the skull and severe cuts to head and legs.

Schmalz, thrown from the truck by the impact, was found on the cowcatcher of the locomotive according to Starr's Ambulance crewmen who took him to hospital.

Schmalz, about 27 years of age, was driving home from Calgary to his home in Beiseker when he apparently failed to see the south-bound train, which crosses the Chestermere Lake highway near Hubalt.

The LIGHTER SIDE

Some Fight

During the celebrations of her employer's golden wedding anniversary, a servant who had been with the family about 40 years added her own felicitations to those who had come by wire, telephone, letter and by personal call. The opportunity came while she was assisting in the preparation of the anniversary dinner when she said to her mistress:

"Well, all I have to say is that you two have fought a good fight."

Surrounded, Not Lost

A farmer from a small Ohio town spent a glorious two weeks' vacation in New York. Returning home, he held his children spell-bound with tales of what he had seen in the big town.

"Why, father," exclaimed one, "I should think that you'd have been afraid of getting lost!"

"How could I be lost," he inquired, "when I didn't care where I was?"

Bright Boy

"Now boys," said the teacher, "I want you to bear in mind that the affix 'stan' means 'the place of.' Thus we have Afghanistan, the place of the Afghans. Can anyone give me another example?"

Nobody seemed anxious to do so until little Jimmy said proudly: "Yes, sir, I can: Umbrellastan the place for umbrellas!"

"You Canna Tak the Breks . . ."

Teacher: "Now, John, tell me why we talk about the wisdom of the serpent?"

John: "Because you can't pull its leg, miss."

LETTER TO LOUISA

DOMINEERING HUSBAND THREATENS HAPPINESS OF MARRIED LIFE

DEAR LOUISA:—My husband and I have been married about a year.

We love each other very much and get along fine except for one thing. He cannot bear for me to disagree with him on anything. Although he is an extremely polite person, as a rule, he has behaved quite rudely to me on several occasions when I voiced an opinion contrary to his. The worst part of it is that this happened when other people were present. He practically ordered me to hush up and treated me as if I were a moron or a two year old child.

I was terribly embarrassed and the people we were with looked as if they were dumfounded. He said afterwards, that he did not consider that he was any ruder to me than I was to him.

Honestly, if I had never gotten past the fourth grade and had lived in the backwoods all my life, I might be satisfied to accept everything that another person thought, but I am a grown young woman who made A's on almost every subject at college and as such I think I should be treated as an individual.

I am sure my husband loves me better than anyone else in the world and yet I am the only person I have ever seen him act rude to. What can I do about it?

ANNA.

Answer:

I can't explain your husband's behavior unless he acts that way because you are the one person in the world he wants to think he is perfect. Of course when he behaves in such a manner he is defeating the very end he is striving to attain.

It will be hard to keep your illusions about his perfection if he continues to show this dominating impolite streak. I trust that he will see the error of his ways soon and correct them or he will do himself a great deal of harm not only in regards to what you will think but in what other people will think and say. Very few people have any use for a man who bullies his wife in public. It puts a wet blanket on the party and creates only sympathy for the wife. The man may vainly imagine that people admire him for his control over his better half but such behavior only creates pity for her and dislike for him.

Why don't you talk to him and say just what you have written to me. Perhaps he will wake up and save himself a lot of grief.

LOUISA.

CLAY'S SAY:

March of Time Starts New Fight on Polio

By CHARLES CLAY

We, who represent the Canadian Foundation of Poliomyelitis, (Canadian March of Dimes), have often been asked: What is your Foundation? . . . What is its work? . . . What is its value? . . . It really necessary?

We answer . . . yes!

The Foundation is necessary. It is necessary to help relieve pain and suffering and the anguish of the thousands of Canadians who have and Charles Clay are still suffering from the attacks by the dread crippling, Poliomyelitis.

There are a great many ways in which you are fighting Polio through the Foundation.

There are various provincial health policies in various provinces. There are various agencies augmenting the Government program in each province.

Your Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis is not an overlapping agency. It is not duplicating the work of any existing organization.

Rather it is filling in the gaps. Let me list a few of the concrete things you are doing through your Foundation:

1. You are helping children and adults in the matter of braces and shoes of special construction.

2. You are getting Polio victims from their homes to various orthopaedic centres where they can be examined and fitted. Most of them have no money for travelling, and many of the provincial governments and other agencies operating in the Polio field are unable to supply this transportation. You have done this.

3. You are picking up Polio cases where provincial governments and other agencies leave off.

There was the case of the boy who became too old to be eligible for care under the Shriners' program, after that organization had done truly remarkable work for him. It would have been too bad to have dropped him after all this.

But you prevented that. The boy has been treated by your Foundation and given a new start in life. You cannot measure the good you have done in just that one case.

There was the case of the boy under care of a provincial government, because he was an indigent case from unorganized territory. The government was willing to pay for his hospitalization . . . and did so. However, in this particular instance, the provincial government's aid did not cover alterations to the boy's shoes. Such alterations were necessary, and that was where you stepped into the case.

You—through your Foundation—had the boy's shoes altered. The dollars and dimes you donated to the first annual Canadian March of Dimes in 1950 have been fighting magnificently against that cruel enemy, Poliomyelitis.

But the fight is far from over.

Your Canadian Foundation for Poliomyelitis is necessary—very necessary.

Give generously to The Canadian March of Dimes. Send your contribution to 908 McLeod Bldg., Edmonton.

And God bless you!

Not Much Room For These Craft

No, these North Stars haven't plunged through a couple of apartment blocks. They are merely undergoing maintenance work at their newly-built "nose-hangars" at McChord air force base near Tacoma, Washington, where the R.C.A.F.'s 426 Thunderbird Squadron is based for its operations on the Korean airlift. With a cold winter coming on and hangar space at a premium because of the large number of planes on the airlift, these "nose-hangars" were built to give snip-s-a-bug shelter for mechanics working on the planes.

Former Residents In Bad Accidents

CROSSFIELD — Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Butler, who came to town at the same time as Fred Baker, were in a serious car accident 13 miles north of Radium, when the car in which they were riding overturned after sliding off an icy road into the ditch. Mrs. Butler's sister-in-law, Mrs. Tibert of U.S.A., was killed instantly when she was thrown out and pinned beneath the car.

Christmas Party Held in Crossfield

CROSSFIELD — President Walter Wilson is to be congratulated on a very successful legion Christmas party, which took place in the Memorial Hall on Wed., Dec. 20, at 8 p.m. The hall was packed to capacity. A lovely Christmas tree kept the children wide awake and it was most gratifying to witness such a wonderful turnout from near and far and with the children in such good behaviour. The president opened the program with the customary "silence" which is observed at all meetings. There was a bit of community singing, led by Harry May and also by picture conducting, in a reel shown by Mr. Mumby who also showed two other pictures which were special ly adapted for the kiddies. Harry May was asked to read the Soldiers interpretation of the "Night Before Christmas" which was amusing, and written by a soldier in hospital. After Santa Claus had brought a gift to every child in the hall, the president invited those present to have lunch in the basement and also asked for a good attendance in anticipation of the annual meeting.

The program, designed to increase stock in the Elbow Falls area, was begun last spring in the moving of 49 animals. This time seven were shipped to the same district by the Calgary group; and 11 more were transferred to the Grease Creek country west of Crossfield by the Crossfield Association.

Association officials involved in the transfer said trapping of animals at Canmore would be easier once deep snow covered food supplies at the ranger station. They are then trucked to the new locations.

Christmas Service Well Attended

CROSSFIELD — The Christmas service at the United church, very well attended and the choir offered the cantata, "Chimes of the Holy Night", with scriptural reading by Rev. Anderson. The choir was led by Mrs. Charney, organist, and despite very bad colds, which had come at a very inopportune time to almost every member, received a lot of favorable comment. After the service a representation from both junior and senior choirs tripped merrily through the fresh fallen snow to the homes of all those who were sick or convalescing. They sang many carols and Christmas songs at the home of Mrs. Kinghorn, where her little boy has been ill for so many weeks, and who thoroughly enjoyed the treat. As has
